The bandit entered the store where Hillard was on duty alone. The gunman made several small purchases. When Hillard handed the articles across the counter the robber drew an automatic revolver and aimed it at the clerk.

Hillard was ordered to get down on the floor which he did. The bandit then robbed the cash register, fled to his automobile and drove away rapidly through West Winter avenue.

Police were called but failed to sight the bandit on any of the highways leading from the city. Hillard gave the officers a good description of the man.

He was described as follows: height, 5 feet 11 inches; build, slender; weight, 165 pounds; age, 28; clothes, brown suit and brown hat. The gun was a 1933 or 1934 model. Hillard reported.

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 20.—The daily reports from Europe contain even more than the usual quota of "crucial moment," "clash imminent," "delicate situation," "grave crisis"; all the familiar cries of "wolf" that have lost me a n i n g through repetition.

Meanwhile, the a n d other treaties are being very thoroughly "revised," without the formality of calling a conference.

The Overlord of Turkey, Kemal Ataturk, has moved his troops into the demilitarized zone at the Dardanelles. He has merely followed the lead of Mussolini and Hitler in taking to direct action. He recognizes the simple fact that the League of Nations is powerless or unwilling to force strong nations to live up to treaty promises that do not suit them.

Postponement to the middle of May of consideration of sanctions against Italy is a tacit admission that the combined League-British bluff has worn pretty thin.

How much longer will the members continue to pay club dues to such a futile and passion-arousing debating society as the League of Nations has turned out to be?

One of New Castle's citizens who aided much in wild life conservation during the past winter was William E. Weitz, of Madison avenue. Mr. Weitz had a number of shelters built throughout the county and saw to it that grain was supplied to keep the birds from starving to death during the rigorous winter.

Eden Declares Poison Gas Is Used By Italy

League Is Told That Evidence Shows Poison Gas Used In Ethiopia

EXPERTS REVEAL SOME ATROCITIES

Committee Says Ethiopians Also Guilty Of Some Charged Atrocities

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

GENEVA, April 20.—Italy's use of poison gas against Ethiopia, as certified by League of Nations experts, menaces every city and town in Europe, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the league council today.

In a fighting address on the Italo-Ethiopian crisis, Eden declared present sanctions against Italy must be continued, and added that Britain was willing to take part in any extension of economic or financial sanctions which the league might order.

Eden declared there was ample proof that Italy had used poison gas against Ethiopia. He said:

Poison Gas Used

It is impossible to ignore evidence which goes to show poison gases were used by the Italian armies in their campaign against the Abyssinians, who were utterly unprovided with means for defense against this method of warfare which was outlawed not only by the belligerents but by all the parties to the protocol of 1925.

This protocol concerns the inhabitants of every great city in the world, and it is for them to characterize against extermination.

State Troops Patrol Border To Halt Indigent Aliens Enroute

TO HALT ANNUAL RUSH INTO STATE

(International News Service)

DENVER, April 20.—The Colorado national guard went into action at daybreak today along the 350 miles of the state's southern border maintaining a barrier through which indigent aliens may not pass.

An area the length of the state's boundary and one mile wide was placed under martial law by Gov. Ed. C. Johnson Saturday. Adj't Gen. Neil West Kimball, with 36 men from the 157th infantry and the 168th field artillery in Denver went to Trinidad, Colo., Sunday to establish headquarters there. He was joined by officers and men from other units in the state.

The governor ordered militarization of the area in a surprise move late Saturday night. The order coincided in time with the annual migration of aliens from states nearer the Mexican border into Colorado to work in the sugar beet fields. Not only Mexican laborers, but all other indigents as well will be turned back.

G. O. P. Issues And Candidates Will Be Discussed At Sessions

WILL NAME PARTY STANDARD BEARER

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON. April 20.—Westminster College convention delegates were looking for a "dark horse candidate" today as the opening day of the mock Republican national presidential nominating convention arrived, with the first session and keynote address at 8 o'clock tonight.

Two candidates, representing the majority and minority permanent organizations committees which decide on the party planks, were named as the logical contenders for the office of permanent chairman, McElroy Smith and Graham Carter, both of Pittsburgh.

In order to keep students closely in touch with last minute convention news, "The Convention News" will be published Monday and Wednesday nights, to be distributed on the convention floor.

Miss Kay Wagner, Greensburg, has been named official convention secretary to take complete notes of the proceedings. Attempts are being made to completely camouflage the gymnasium into a convention hall with all the trimmings, press box, loud speakers, speakers' platform and the college band.

Three hundred and thirty delegations will be seated at eight o'clock tonight to listen to political orator, State Senator George L. Reed, Harrisburg. States will be seated alphabetically under their state banners.

Graham Carter, Pittsburgh, junior, acting as temporary chairman, will precede the keynoter tonight, after the official opening by Kenneth McCormack, Elmersburg, chairman of the Tau Kappa Alpha, forensics fraternity which is sponsoring the convention.

Do You Want A Baby?

IT is a well known fact that "Complete unity and happiness in married life is brought by babies," and that lack of children in the home is one of the greatest causes for discontented marriages. Also that every woman was intended for Motherhood, but too often she is undeveloped or suffering with functional disorders which rob her of this normal desire. I am writing exclusively to women, I specialize in conditions peculiar to women. I developed a simple home method which has brought new hope, health and happiness to thousands.

I have printed an illustrated comprehensive Treatise on the merits of this method in which I introduce the reader to the secret of health relating to the female organs that are vitally interesting to every woman. They tell how you too may combat your troubles as thousands of others have who reported the arrival of babies after being childless for years and even been told they could never have learned the desires and activities of Nature's most wonderful creation—a normal fully developed, vigorous woman. The plight of the two survivors grew more desperate with each passing minute. Rapidly, steadily, the seepage of water into the underground chamber of horror continued. Attempts to reassure the trapped men with messages of encouragement shouted down the pipe line which was sunk yesterday met with almost hopeless responses of Robertson and Scadding. It was evident they had resigned themselves to prospects of death in the underground tomb.

Tears streaming down his face, but fighting to inject a cheerful note into his voice, Phillip Henderson, veteran of 50 years in the mine fields, shouted down the pipe line: "Alf—Are you there, Alf? Listen, Alf, we're doing the best we can."

the evacuation, and today thousands went forth from the city using every conceivable means of transportation for their goods.

Hundreds Seek Safety

The British legation was in a state of siege, with hundreds of all nationalities and races camped outside demanding protection and permission to enter the legation zone for immunity from a possible air raid.

Belgian and Swedish military advisors to the government departed for Djibouti, but so far the score of American residents, mostly missionaries, have not been warned to flee. All will be given protection at the American legation outside the town.

A long council of Emperor Haile Selassie's ministers decided not to set up a capital elsewhere as yet.

Addis Ababa will not be defended when the Italian reaches its outskirts, the leaders determined, but they will continue to treat it as an "open town" to avoid an air raid.

The crown prince—Italian rumors that he favors their cause to the contrary—is reported to have reorganized an army and will make a last desperate stand north and east of Addis Ababa against the forces of Marshal Pietro Badoglio.

The emperor is also understood to be north of Addis Ababa, still with a large force of imperial guards.

April, the month of showers, was the decorative motif carried out in the table appointments at Oak street school Friday, when members of the faculty gathered to honor one of their teachers, Grace Eakin and Myrna Donnelly, school secretary, the occasion marking their usual luncheon entertainment.

Two large moulds of golden hue jello with whipped cream centers, were placed at either end of the long table, and in the center, was a golden birthday cake. Guests were given individual miniature umbrella favors, carrying out the same colors.

Principal, Iretta V. Dart, headed the table, and sitting at her side, were the honored ones, Helen Bubak and Thelma Wolfe, teachers in the Butler schools, shared as special visitors.

The serving of the luncheon menu, in charge of Anna Dodds, chairman, Martha Muse, Ima Rosenberg, Dorothy Jenkins, Helen Hinkson, Lillian Sedwick, Katherine McCraig, Pearl McLure Frazier, Martha Smyth, Clara Smyth and Virginia Bowman.

Club Entertained

Mrs. Edward Donley entertained G. G. G. club associates in her home on West State street, Friday evening.

Entertainment at the Ellwood City section Wednesday afternoon, April 22, at which Miss Anna Kaufmann, of New York, the port and Ellis Island representative of the council, will be the speaker.

The meeting will be in the form of a membership tea and will be held in the home of Mrs. Harry Caplan, president of the Ellwood City section. All Jewish women in Ellwood City have been invited as well as council members, also those in Sharon, Butler and Beaver Falls, as well as New Castle.

Miss Kaufmann spoke before the local section several months ago, winning so many friends by her dramatic and forceful presentation in aid of the foreign-born that a large number of women from this vicinity plan to hear her Wednesday.

The occasion proved one of the most enjoyable which took place Saturday and lasted from two until five o'clock. During this time an interesting program of games was featured that included many novel contests. Prizes were awarded to Virginia Frazier, Kathryn Crauthers and Evelyn Gee for their success in the various events.

Upon being invited into the dining room the guests were seated at a long banquet table, beautifully decorated in tones of pink and white. A huge birthday cake with the inscription "Happy Birthday" formed the centerpiece, with clusters of pink roses and snapdragons on either side. While at the table a special prize was awarded to Betty Crane for having the best posture.

In serving a delicious menu of refreshments Mrs. Hazen was assisted by another daughter, Anna Mae Hazen.

A collection of attractive personal gifts were received by Helen as mementoes of the delightful affair.

THE COST OF MODERN PROGRESS

A STEEL worker lost his footing while working on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge the other day, and plunged 160 feet to his death. It was the 19th fatality recorded during construction of the bridge.

Away back in the days of the ancient Romans it was the custom to start every big construction job with a human sacrifice. A slave would be killed and his body sealed into a crypt beneath the cornerstone. Every great building, bridge, aqueduct, or monument was thus, in a way, a sort of memorial to a nameless person who had given his life that the job might be finished.

We do the same sort of thing nowadays, but we don't do it intentionally.

It would be hard to find a record of any large-scale construction job in this country which has been carried through without taking the life of some workman. This isn't due to carelessness on the part of the engineers and foremen; construction work is just naturally dangerous, and the mere law of averages decrees that it has to take a life every so often.

This is worth remembering. We like to call ourselves the greatest builders since the days of the Caesars, and we probably deserve the title; but we should never forget the price has to be paid for achievement by the unsung workers who take danger as part of the job.

These men are national heroes, in a very real sense. Whenever there is a hard, dangerous, exacting job to be done, they come swaggering up, in overalls and leather gloves, and take it on.

STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN

In 1928 the number of grade crossing fatalities in the United States reached an all time high at 2,568, plus another 7,000 persons injured. But beginning then, due to increased prevention efforts by the railroads and safety organizations and the elimination of many of the most dangerous crossings, fatalities were reduced to 1,511 and the number of injuries to 3,697 for the year 1933.

Since 1933, however, and despite continued safety efforts and crossing eliminations, the number of fatal and nonfatal accidents steadily has risen. Last year the total, now reported by the safety section of the Association of American Railroads, was larger than that for any year since 1931, amounting to 1,680 killed and 4,658 injured.

If the solution must be total elimination of crossings on all main highways, what other hazards will remain for reckless and incompetent drivers?

THE SEASON FOR FISH STORIES

Now that the trout season is open in this state, the public must be warned that a new crop of fish stories is in the making. It is strange, but the most thrilling tales always deal with fish that got away.

We do not like to question anyone's veracity, and especially that of fishermen, but it should be kept in mind that it is much easier to bring back stories than fish.

According to experts, however, the season should be a successful one, from the anglers' standpoint. There is an ample supply of the finny denizens of the streams, but they are just as elusive as in former years.

To venture an opinion as to the best part of the season in which to go fishing is taking a big chance. Every fisherman has his own ideas on that question.

But an official of the Izaak Walton League declares that only "non-scientific" anglers are taking advantage of the opening days. The real experts, those who fish just for the fun of it and use flies, are going to wait a couple more weeks until the weather's warmer, the streams are lower and the trout hungrier."

As a safety measure, we are giving this man's advice instead of our own; it never pays to take chances on such an important subject.

CAN WE RELAX?

The first flaw in the theory of a woman professor of physical education at Columbia University, who claims that most people do not know how to relax, is discernible in that premise. The fact of the matter is that for the past half-dozen years a great many persons have learned how to relax, due to a lot of enforced relaxation in that period. They have been relaxing because there was not much else for them to do, until, as a result, relaxation has been brought to a high degree of perfection. It may have been true back in the hustling days of '28 and '29 that people didn't know how to relax. But they have learned, by long experience.

It is from the premise that people are unable to relax, however, that the instructor at Columbia steps into her advice for the tired business man. She finds it helpful to sleep later and linger longer over the grapefruit and toast. It is an entirely acceptable formula if you're able. Not so acceptable is her recommendation against bridge (it's too fatiguing) and her suggestion that a 20-block walk in the evening be substituted. Most persons are likely to prefer bridge to a long hike and a majority of them would take the movies—traveling to and fro by auto or street car—over either of them.

As good as the advice on sleeping later in the morning is the suggestion that "as much office work as possible should be delegated to your subordinates." It invites executives to slip back still further in their easy chairs, but it leads one to wonder how the subordinates, with more work, are to get the added relaxation she advocates. Of course they could take a 40-block hike each night, instead of 20, making complete relaxation doubly sure.

Jersey justice is going out of the show business just as the circus season opens.

Blondes eat less than brunettes, according to a dietician. Maybe that's why they are preferred.

Washington citizen just received a letter mailed 28 years ago. But he can scarcely blame Mr. Farley for that.

If nature would only get reasonable, the American Red Cross might gain the benefit of a much-needed breathing spell.

The campaign hasn't really started up to the present time, but it seems safe to predict that nothing the orators may say will be new.

WHAT DOES the Angel Gabriel think of men as he writes about the stupidity, worse even than the recklessness, murderous brutality, of the various nations? They know what another war would mean: destruction of cities, wholesale murder by bombs and poison gas, such as the world has never seen, yet the resources of science are used by "civilized men" to wipe out whole populations; as they have been used to exterminate grasshoppers and other pests.

WHAT WOULD you think if intelligent men, living side by side in peace, should suddenly begin making or buying deadly weapons, with the idea of exterminating each other unnecessarily?

SUCH DEATH and destruction as would be seen in another great war has never been witnessed on earth, yet the nations move steadily toward it with complete recklessness and apparent lack of imagination.

This country may thank Heaven for the two oceans, that still give some slight protection, although it will not last. And this country, if it should not keep out of any new war, would deserve whatever it might get.

IF WOLVES wrote about human beings they would hardly know how to describe some of us and would not want little wolves to read the description; it might demoralize them.

IN LONDON a man arrested for strangling a woman, told police:

"I had never seen the woman before in my life. I just murdered her because I wanted to murder some one."

AT ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., a man is arrested for kicking his four-year-old daughter in the stomach while intoxicated, seriously injuring her. His wife testified that he had forced a 12-year-old son to steal that he might buy liquor.

If it were possible to select the victims of the next great war, you might be reconciled to it.

MISS COCHRAN, curator of reptiles for the Smithsonian Institution, thinks more snakes should be adopted as household pets. "They can be very interesting pets and nice ones, too," says the lady.

One thing stands in the way of that, according to learned evolutionists: When primitive woman sat in a tree, a baby in her arms, the thing she feared was a huge snake winding around the limb, to snatch the baby from her. She has not yet recovered from that fright. Also, she still fears rats, because they so often ate the babies in old cave dwellings.

And, then, there is that snake in the Garden of Eden.

THE NEW BRITISH passenger ship, Queen Mary, established a record of thirty-five miles an hour yesterday, fast for a passenger steamer. It ought to be called ridiculously SLOW. In the surface of the water nature supplies a ball-bearing condition. With that advantage human ingenuity should easily, with catamaran construction and multiple small propellers, or otherwise, attain a speed of five hundred miles an hour.

A reader complains that no outstanding American fiction has been written recently. Just be patient, brother, until the political parties get around to writing their platforms next year.

Some people are suggesting that the Congressional Record ought to contain advertising. It doesn't contain anything else that's interesting.

Don't gamble. The monkeys happened to choose tails instead of heads and now look at them.

Dear Fred: An inquirer asks for a term that will be strictly American to substitute for the word "flapper," which we borrowed from the English, as applied to women and girls who walk the streets, half clad, at all hours of the day and night.

"How about stripped roadsters," asks Mr. Smarter.

FRIEND O' YOURN.

No matter how much a woman loves her husband, there are times when she is convinced he hasn't evolved far enough to entitle him not to live in trees.

A man recently shaved himself while walking a tight rope. We get practically the same result with a dull razor blade and cold water.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Will Broaden Taxation Plan

Small Wage Earner Will Be Hit By Reducing Exemption Amounts In New Program

BACHELORS WILL BE TAXED HEAVIER

Central Press Washington Bureau 1900 S Street

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The treasury department's office of research and statistics has on hand the draft of a plan to "broaden the income tax base", as fiscal experts express it.

It is not a bill, ready to be introduced in Congress. It is, however, the raw material for one.

I happen to have seen it.

It will not get out of the treasury department's statistical office ahead of election day. That is a certainty. Nevertheless, it hints at what the statistical folks have simmering in the back of their heads, with a view to the next congressional session—AFTER election, if their side wins it.

EXEMPTIONS CUT
The tentative scheme is to reduce the unmarried man's income tax exemption to $500 and the married man's exemption to $1,000.

That is to say, the bachelor will be taxed on everything he makes above $500; the benefit on everything above $1,000. A great many additional details are involved (scarcely anything is more complicated than income taxation) but that is the nub of the program.

I offer this information as a bit of news, and I think, exclusive news, rather than as a columnist's reflections. It seems to me it should be interesting to a sizable proportion of the citizenry.

HUGE RESERVOIR

There is no question that a tax on all families above the $1,000 mark (not to mention the $500 bachelors) would bring a lot of money into Uncle Sam's treasury.

A treasury statistical wizard estimated to me that approximately 87 per cent of the country's incomes are below $2,500.

Obviously, if all these small fry are to be caught (from $500 or $1,000) and $2,500, the gross yield will be enormous. It will come in in nickels, dimes, "simoleons", and an occasional "V" or "sawbuck", but it will be a handsome total.

It isn't a "soak the rich" concept, anyway.

HOW IT WORKS OUT

Theoretically an income tax seems to be fair; it appears to put the load upon the shoulders which are best able to carry it.

Unluckily it doesn't work out that way in practice.

As I previously have related, I paid my income tax in the same year that J. P. Morgan did not pay one—in this country (he did in England).

MOST EVIDENT TAX

In one respect, however, income taxation has undeniable merit.

Of all levies, it is the most evident and offensive; those who are taxed know it; are resentful, and ask how their money is being spent—or wasted.

Governmental authority consequently is afraid of it.

It is a last resource, but a desperately pressed government sees no hope except to resort to it.

It will not resort to it until after election, however.

BUSINESS CAUTIOUS

I talked, the other day, with a very big man in the meat packing industry.

"Business," he said, "is pretty good, but how do we dare to expand, with the possibility of a whole change in the social system confronting us?"

"Maybe change will benefit the future; but what about our stockholders now?"

WOLVES MEET

TUESDAY NIGHT

Tuesday night is the date of the next regular dinner meeting of the Wolves club in the Elks club, North Mill street. The event will start at 6:30 o'clock.

You think the world is growing worse, and then you remember that men wore lace on their knee pants.

On Court House Hill

County Health Officer J. Frank Stevens is looking for people who dump garbage and refuse of all kinds along the public highways. Some people may not know it, but this is against the law. The person who uses the roadside as a public dump is subject to a fine of $25.

Mr. Stevens called attention particularly to a point near the Harbor bridge, where considerable rubbish has been dumped. There are also heaps of rubbish along other roads leading into this city. People have been loading their garbage trucks or autos, taking it outside the city, and dumping it anywhere.

Considerable refuse is taken out in boxes in automobiles and the box and all dumped in gutters. Mr. Stevens would like to have the names of any persons seen dumping garbage by the road sides.

Benjamin Z. Byler of Pulaski township was at the county commissioners' office on Saturday in connection with a road in his section which the people up that way would like to see improved.

Incidentally, he discussed the weather and the prospects for early spring plowing. He said that it has been too wet to do much plowing this year, but he is a firm believer in a seed time and harvest and is of the opinion that even if the farmers can't get their plowing done until late, their crops will mature.

"The latest spring plowing that I have ever done," said Mr. Byler, "was on May 12th. I don't just recall the year, but nevertheless I had good crops."

The optimism expressed by Mr. Byler is inherent in the Amish people, whose well kept farms are beauty spots in Wilmington and Pulaski townships. During the depression they have tilled their farms, marketed their products and managed to keep going far better than the average. They are living examples of what economy and thrift, coupled with hard work, can accomplish.

Recent sessions of sentence court indicate that an increasing number of persons arrested are disposed to blame their misdeeds on liquor. They seem to think that if they were drunk when they robbed a store, held up a man or confiscated someone's automobile, it is an excuse and that the court ought to decide leniently with them.

The law does not recognize intoxication as an excuse for crime. If it did, all that a man would have to do would be to get drunk when he took a notion to rob or murder. The law presumes that a man's intent is to commit the crime regardless of whether he is drunk or sober.

It very often happens that a man who is under the influence of liquor will do things that he would not do when sober, and he feels ashamed or sorry for it afterwards, but that does not excuse him.

The least excusable are those who drive automobiles while under the influence of liquor. They not only endanger their own lives, but the lives of others on the road. Happily, the court believes that the sobering influence for such persons is a term in the county jail. There are no probationary periods for this class of offenders.

Thomas Edmunds, clerk of the permanent registration bureau, has called a meeting of all the election boards in the city of New Castle for next Wednesday evening at seven o'clock at the courthouse. The purpose of the meeting is to complete arrangements for holding the primary election on April 28th.

Some of the boards in the city are experienced and some have had but little experience. Mr. Edmunds proposes to explain the law regarding the holding of primaries. He will tell who are eligible to vote and who are not.

Regarding the matter of assistance in the voting booth, Mr. Edmunds has secured an opinion from County Solicitor William McElwee, Jr., in which it is held that the voter need not expressly state on his registration card if he needs assistance in the booth. The election board is to determine that matter from the circumstances surrounding the case.

The law is somewhat different in this respect in third-class cities, as compared with second-class cities. There has been considerable controversy of late in second-class cities over the law relating to registration. Some maintain that the voter must state when he registered if he will be in need of assistance, while others claim this is not necessary. However, the controversial point does not apply in third-class cities.

City Engineer Glenn R. Throop stated today that the city hopes to secure another quarry from which stone can be secured for the street paving program which will be started as soon as sufficient stone can be secured.

Relatives to proposed widening of North street, between East and North Jefferson streets, Throop said the curbs would be set back on each side of the thoroughfare which will be widened 2½ feet.

The portion when widened, will be paved with concrete. After this has been done the entire carway will receive a coat of bituminous material, Throop added.

It is not known when the widening will be started. Utility companies must change their service lines, before work can get under way, he explained.

City employees continue to work on the Martin street sewer. Throop stated. It is not known when the WPA will take over the work.

PRESIDENT ATTATURK, of the Turkish republic, formerly called Kemal Pasha, has seized the passage of the Dardanelles that separates Europe and Asia, and that would have to be used by any Russian ships entering the Mediterranean at the eastern end.

The seizure of the Dardanelles is a treaty violation and the League of Nations will talk about it. Stalin would probably DO something to it, except that he wisely attaches more importance to airships than to surface ships.

WHAT DESPERATE MEN call "taking a chance" was brought to a high point in a prison at Athens, when Lambros Eftaxias, wealthy member of Parliament, paid a "visit of mercy" to Panagiotis Marinos, sentenced to life imprisonment for murder. When the rich man entered his cell to talk, Marinos pushed a smuggled revolver against him, telling him and the guards he would murder Eftaxias unless the king gave him an immediate pardon.

King George refused the pardon, but meanwhile two prison guards, selecting vantage points, shot Marinos dead. The rich man was slightly wounded.

Minimum Group For Hospital Care Proposal Is Five

How do I join a group to take advantage of the Jameson Hospital Prepaid Hospital Care plan and how many must make up the group is a composite question being asked just now as people scan the recently announced plan of the hospital.

Becoming a member of a group is relatively simple arrangement. The minimum number of members to a group is five. Thus any individual who wishes to join with four others can become a member of the new prepaid hospital care plan.

For example, John Doe is an attendant at a gasoline service station. Along with four or more others who work at the station or who are interested in the plan they band themselves together and call themselves the "Quick Start Gasoline Station" unit, or some other name, depending upon what they wish.

Among them select one member who is to act as their agent or treasurer. Each of them signs the group contract with the Jameson Memorial hospital and then the agent or treasurer selected by the group members deals directly with the hospital.

Each month the agent or treasurer collects the fifty or seventy-five cents due from each member, depending upon the class of room they want in case of hospitalization. The agent then turns over the group membership fees to the hospital.

In case of needed hospitalization there is no red tape no formality. One of the men who operates the gas pumps is stricken with appendicitis, let us assume. He is rushed

NEW YORK, April 20.—Children and savages (it might be put "and other savages") make the best motion picture performers. This has been demonstrated so often in late years that the adult practitioners of celluloid strutting are beginning to blush and feel a bit silly, when any tot from six to ten can out-act them all over the lot.

Perhaps the movie moguls were unwilling to let the moppets have the rein they have enjoyed the last few years. The public, soon or late, will wake up to the fact that there is about as much "experience" and "art slowly mastered" in the success of a film magnifico as in the process of digestion.

The art of making faces before a camera is a natural art. You have it or you haven't; but as you grow older you pick up self-consciousness and the soft life and rich food of Hollywood tend to make you less convincing. Soon you admit, in the privacy of your Spanish villa in the Hollywood Hills, that it's not a rare trick or one that can be much improved.

There is, notably, Miss Shirley Temple. Her screen emotions are as ingeniously and convincingly portrayed as Garbo's. What has she to learn? What can experience teach Shirley that she doesn't already know about acting?

And take the case of that amazing little girl named Benita Granville, who steals the show in "These Three". She's thirteen. She plays along with Miss Merle Oberon and Miss Miriam Hopkins, whose ages are certainly not great but just as certainly not included with the publicity releases from their studio. Benita Granville has twice the fire, the sureness, the lack of tricks and mannerism, the convincing fervor; twice the skill and the knock of her matured sisters of the lens.

In short she acts with the burning awareness of children and savages. She is magnificent. She makes her elders seem a little stuffy alongside her, a little cameo-conscious. Here is one of the most intelligently made and nearest adult pictures of the decade. Benita Granville, aged thirteen, runs away with it. I doubt that she will ever be able to get across a truer performance. There ought to be a lesson in this.

The lesson, if any, may be this: the art of the motion picture, where there is any art at all, has for its repository the skulls of the directors. Good direction accounts for nine-tenths of the first-rate pictures and, given good direction Freddie Bartholomew can etch the picture of a flesh-and-blood human being across the screen as effectively as Walter Huston or even Charles Laughton.

But professionals in many fields like to give an air of mystery and immense difficulty to what they do for fees. Lawyers write in a prose so prolix and high-toned with polysyllables that if they wrote a no-trespassing sign you wouldn't be able to see the farm behind it. Doctors spout prescriptions in sinister Latin abbreviations. Professors, incapable of earning money, write such profound definitions of it that the politicos are dazzled to prostration.

The adult motion picture stars had better have a care. The evil of mystery and occult glamour about their guild is trembling. Every time Mickey Rooney walks before the cameras and wows audiences with the fidelity of miming the veil gets a bad shake. If he can do it at his age, what's all this bother about the time and fierce concentration Dr. Munil needed to be worthy of stardom?

The film grownups had better start yelling for the romper roles themselves. People already suspect, from a single sample, that the Dionne quintuplets could put Bette Davis in the shade with a few thousand more feet to show their full talents.

KANSAS CITY COUPLE DIE IN PLANE CRASH

Mishap Occurs Near Johnstown

Frederick H. Harvey, 37, And Wife, Elizabeth, 31, Are Plane Victims

HIGH TENSION WIRE IS STRUCK

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 20.—Preparations were made today to remove the bodies of Frederick H. Harvey, 37, and his wife Elizabeth, 31, killed instantly when their plane plunged to earth and burned at Dunlo, 15 miles southeast of here, to their home at Kansas City, Mo., for burial.

Harvey, vice president of the Fred Harvey Railway eating house system, and a director of the Trans-continental & Western Airlines was piloting the plane when it came to grief only 60 miles northeast of Chestnut ridge, where the TWA liner Sun Racer crashed with a loss of 12 lives April 7. He was a veteran pilot.

Hit High Tension Wire
Witnesses said the plane struck a high tension wire, zoomed into tree-tops in the heavily wooded section, burst into flames and caromed to earth to make a funeral pyre for its trapped passengers.

The Harveys were enroute to Kansas City from New York, where the young executive met his wife Friday when she returned from a visit to England. Their identity was established by papers and luggage thrown clear of the plane when it landed.

Harvey was a Harvard University graduate. He married the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Francis B. Drage in 1932. They had no children.

McDermott, Mrs. G. A. Patterson, Ralph Brown.

For the dinner the table was decorated with baskets of flowers with a small bouquet at the plate of each of the lady guests. Mr. Beltz finished his duties with the WPA on Saturday and entered service with the Harris Construction company of Pittsburgh.

The rector, Rev. R. D. A. Wilkey, officiated.

The bride was given away by her father, Miss Marie Pastin, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and Jerry Maneri, brother of the bridegroom served as best man. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore pink silk organza with accessories to match and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The families of the deceased members were escorted to seats of honor before the opening of the service. City Treasurer C. C. McElroy delivered the eulogy and impressed his audience with the sincerity of his message. He dwelt upon the brief span of years allotted to mortals and of the necessity of so living this life that we would be prepared for the life to come. A. G. Harbert, dictator of the Moose was in charge of the services assisted by his officers. Special music was presented by George Anthony and Harry Evans, accompanied by Thomas Jones.

The service Sunday evening was the 27th annual affair of its kind and like the one preceding was a service of beauty and inspiration.

Manager Cronin's Team Defeats Athletics With Ferrell In Box

PIRATES DROP TO CARDINALS

(International News Service) NEW YORK, April 20.—Baseball experts are more or less agreed that the fate of the Boston Goldsox depend upon the kind of pitching contributed by the two veterans, Wesley Ferrell and Lefty Grove.

Thus far, Ferrell and Grove have exceeded the fondest expectations of their well-wishers, and if they continue with the same degree of effectiveness the American league pennant is quite likely to fly over Boston's Fenway this fall.

On Friday, Grove displayed all his old time speed and cunning in holding the New York Yankees to two hits and yesterday Ferrell turned back the Philadelphia Athletics in fine style for his second triumph of the infant season. Today finds Tom Yawkey's high priced young men sharing first place with the Cleveland Indians with four victories and one defeat.

Ferrell Stings.

Ferrell held the Mackmen to five hits and was invincible in the pinches. He needed to be for Dusty Rhodes, his opponent, pitched fine ball, too, as he score, 2 to 1, will attest. The defeat was the fifth in a row for the hapless White Elephants, who have yet to win a game.

The world's champion Detroit Tigers came back into the victory column with a vengeance when Schoolboy Rowe blanked the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 0, for his second successive shutout. Rowe held the Sox to five hits.

The Indians made it three straight over the St. Louis Browns, 13 to 6. It was the fifth defeat in a row for Hornsby's men. Ivy Paul Andrews and Jack Knott pitched for the Browns. The Browns collected 12 hits off Mel Harder, who went the route.

The New York Yankees put on a show reminiscent of Babe Ruth's heyday when they pounded White-hill and Weaver for 13 hits to defeat the Washington Senators, 9 to 1. Monte Pearson, former Indian, held the Senators to seven safeties.

Cubs Get Revenge.

In the National league, the champion Chicago Cubs got sweet revenge on the Cincinnati Reds for recent defeats. They buried the Rhinelander under a 16 to 6 count, with Chuck Klein pounding out his second and third home runs of the year. Bill Lee went the route for the Cubs.

The New York Giants strengthened their hold on first place with their fifth consecutive victory. They trimmed the Boston Bees, 4 to 1, behind 4-hit pitching by Hal Schumacher.

Some 18,000 Pittsburgh fans had their home opening day spoiled when the St. Louis Cardinals bunched their hits opportunely to defeat the Pirates by a 7 to 3 score. Bill Hallahan pitched for the Cards against Lucas and Hoyt.

In Rifle Shoot

New Castle Club Will Stage Shoot With Eau Claire Tonight

Jesse Moore was high man with 194 in the semi-weekly shoot of the New Castle Rifle Club at the Cathedral range, this being one of the best scores of the year at the Cathedral range. Leo Hill was second high with 192. Third high was held by Kramer with 190.

Tonight at the Cathedral range the New Castle Rifle Club will stage a shoot with the famous Eau Claire Rifle Club at 7:30 o'clock. This club has been getting a lot of attention in the Pittsburgh district.

The results of the shoot—Moore 194, Hill 192, Cramer 190, Harmer 189, C. Pugh 186, McKibben 182, Black 181, W. McBride 179, Patterson 174, McKeown 172, E. Crawford 165, Workman 160, Thomas 160, Miller 151, Covert 129, Kirkwood 123.

Luke Rowe Gets Letter At Pitt

Another New Castle boy has made good at the University of Pittsburgh and is wearing an insignia "P" for varsity basketball honors. He is Luther Rowe, former New Castle high star, who had down a guard a job on the Panther five the past year in fine style. Rowe will be on the Pitt team again next year and will again go after a varsity starting post.

The New York Giants strengthened their hold on first place with their fifth consecutive victory. They trimmed the Boston Bees, 4 to 1, behind 4-hit pitching by Hal Schumacher.

Some 18,000 Pittsburgh fans had their home opening day spoiled when the St. Louis Cardinals bunched their hits opportunely to defeat the Pirates by a 7 to 3 score. Bill Hallahan pitched for the Cards against Lucas and Hoyt.

County League Franchises To Close April 22

Lawrence County League Extends Invitation To All Teams To Join Circuit

James W. Martin, of Bessemer, secretary of the Lawrence County Baseball League sends the following letter to The News and hoped that this will end the controversy that seems to have been stirred up by the action of the league last week. News Sports Writer, New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sir:
There is to be a meeting of the Lawrence County League at the Sporting Goods Store Wednesday, April 22nd, at 7:30 p. m., at which time the schedule for the 1936 Season will be discussed, also, there will be representation present from the Umpires Association to discuss the officiation and various other matters concerning the league opening May 12th. It was hoped that there would be one or more teams in the city or county that would consider themselves fast enough to take out a franchise in the league, but there seems to be a dearth of teams of the league caliber this season.

It has not been the policy of the league officials to issue a special invitation to other than the previous year league members, but has always invited any team interested in joining the league to be present at the league meeting, using The News sport columns as an open invitation to any such team, and the league officials feel that to any team of league caliber this should suffice. It is still hoped by league officials that there will be at least one or two teams in the city or county that consider itself capable of playing in the league, but they must be of class "AA" caliber.

League Is Open

The league officials will consider all applications up to and including April 22nd, for membership in the County League, at which time the league will be closed to further membership. If there are no further applications for membership, the league will go ahead as a 3 club league, namely, M. A. A., West Pittsburgh, Wampum, Carbon, Hillsdale and A. S. & T. P., which means the fans will enjoy some of the best baseball seen in Lawrence county for some time, as it is natural for the best known players of the county to be under contract to league teams. The league has always been very much in favor of having independent teams in the city and county as a means of having the younger players of the county receive the training necessary to being able to make good with the Lawrence County League teams.

Due to the interest manifest in the ruling by the league, namely, not to play any independent teams of Lawrence county during the league season, the league offers this explanation. It feels any team fast enough to offer any worthwhile opposition to a league team would be a member of the said league in hope of winning a league pennant and, therefore, it would be unfair to the fans of the county and the independent teams to take advantage of the league's professional status and amateur standing of the independent teams. It feels that the fans that make baseball possible are entitled to see teams play that are more evenly matched and that the league teams must go out of for this opposition.

Very truly yours,
LAWRENCE COUNTY LEAGUE,
James W. Martin,
Secretary.

Summer Heat
Dries Out
That Oil

Without the vital dressing oil your fur coat is worthless. Summer weather is its worst enemy... more deadly, even, than moths because you can't escape it if you keep your furs at home. That is why most fur coat owners take no chances... they have their fur coats and fine garments cared for during the non-wearing months in the perfect safety of modern fur storage. This extends fur life greatly and costs so little.

AROUND CITY HALL

Unemployed of the city will receive work when several of the city-WPA projects get under way, the date of which at present is uncertain. The city and WPA will put through a paving program of eight thoroughfares, widen North street a distance of three blocks from East to North Jefferson streets and if everything is ironed out prospects for an airport appear bright. The work in Martin street also may be resumed as soon as additional funds are received by the WPA. The paving program, according to city officials, is held up for want of stone. Soon as a large quarry is secured and sufficient stone is secured the work will get under way, they have pointed out.

According to some of the city police, Mayor Charles E. McGrath's edict "Report on and off duty at headquarters" is satisfactory. For one thing, the men said, it will give some of the men a chance to fraternize before they go forth to uphold law and order. At the same time they will be given orders personally by superior officers as to anything new that develops. Upon reporting back to headquarters after they have performed their jobs the police will be able to personally turn over any information they might have collected. When Major Lynn Adams of the state police addressed an assembly of citizens and police here he praised the London "Bobby" system. Adams declared that whenever a "Bobby" went off duty he turned over to his superiors a written report of the activities of anyone he considered suspicious. Through such a procedure a close check was kept on such people, Adams declared.

Hitler Reaches 47th Birthday

All Of Germany Celebrates
Birthday Of Chancellor,
Bestows Gifts To
Aides

(International News Service)
BERLIN, April 20.—Resuming the old imperial custom of bestowing "birthday honors," Adolf Hitler today presented the baton of a field marshal to General Werner Von Blomberg, war minister, and the stars of a full admiral of the fleet to Admiral Erich Raeder, commander of the navy, as all the nation celebrated the Reichsleiter's 47th birthday.

General Hermann Goering, air minister, and General Freiherr Von Fritsch, chief of the army command, were promoted to the rank of colonel generals, the equivalent of army commanders. Hitler also decreed that Admiral Raeder and Col. Gen. Von Fritsch would henceforth have the same official ranking as cabinet ministers.

Gigantic Parade

The event was marked in Berlin with a gigantic army parade, reviewed by Hitler in Berlin's Tiergarten park.

One of the biggest crowds ever assembled in the capital, numbering several hundred thousands, jammed the park, the heart of the city was paralyzed, with streets blocked for hours, and nearly all business was suspended.

Mayor McNair Is Back In Pittsburgh

May Be Returned To Jail Cell
—Played Fiddle In
New York

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 20.—Having carried off his threat to fiddle on a nation-wide radio broadcast from New York, Mayor William N. McNair came back to Pittsburgh today and perhaps back to city jail, where he had a high old time for two hours Saturday.

Unlike his infamous predecessor, Nero, Hizzoner fiddled while nothing burned—unless it was the ears of listening music lovers. To do him justice, however, it must be noted his "Old Black Joe" went the route without getting to the "gong." Whether the mayor escaped this ignominy by the excellence of his efforts or the softness of the gong-wielder's heart must remain a moot question. Suffice it to say he was permitted to finish.

Didn't Get Gong

Before boarding a train in New York last night, the Smoky City's guiding genius and most consistent headline writer told Gotham scribes that what with a week-end which saw him go to jail and appear on the radio, he hadn't had so much fun since the flood. His last words to New York were that jail or no jail, he wouldn't recant from his position, which was that he'd not refund a $100 "numbers" fine imposed on Sam Collinger, alleged "numbers" writer, who appealed the fine and won. Hizzoner avoided the bars for the time being on a habeas corpus writ.

A hearing scheduled for late today, at which Attorney Warren H. Van Kirk will seek to have the habeas corpus revoked, will decide whether Hizzoner must return to the lockup.
